

Overview: Unlike other mobile file access and collaborative file sharing solutions, Micro Focus Filr has been designed with the enterprise in mind, resulting in less administration, better security, and more productive users.

Enterprise file sharing requires a high level of security and accountability, thorough controls and other features that empower IT to protect an organization's interests. Micro Focus Filr is a different approach to the problem, one whose differences means it offers true enterprise file sharing and mobile access.

Highlights

Take back control: Filr enables you and your IT staff to determine which users are allowed to share files, which files they can share and with whom they can share them.

Leverage existing file servers: You've already set up your access rights, quotas, firewalls, backup, and disaster recovery systems. Filr leverages all of that by working with your file servers and Active Directory or NetIQ eDirectory.

Brings the office everywhere: Make users productive from day one. Filr gives users access to all their files and shared network folders from any device or location. Wherever they are, users can access files and folders as if they're in the office.

Above the clouds: There are other file syncing and sharing solutions on the market. Here's why Filr is better.

Features

Works on all your devices: Filr has clients and apps for desktops, laptops, smart phones and tablets on a variety of platforms, including Microsoft, Linux, iOS, Android and many more.

Filr entitlement: Filr is an entitlement benefit to customers with active maintenance on Open Enterprise Server or Open Workgroup Suite.

A familiar feel: Filr gives users features like those on social media sites, blogs, and email systems.

Integrate quickly: Filr integrates with your organization's existing directory services, either Microsoft Active Directory, Micro Focus NetIQ eDirectory or both.

Access on-premises data from anywhere: Make users productive from day one. Filr gives users access to all their files and shared network folders from any device or location.
